

Professor Toni Craven, Ph.D

Presenting:

Worship and the Psalms

Saturday, October 29, 2011

St. Anne Catholic Church, St. Basil Hall
9:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m.

Fee at the door: $15.00 per person

Toni Craven is the I. Wiley and Elizabeth M. Briscoe Professor of Hebrew Bible at Brite Divinity School, Texas Christian University. She received a B.A. from the University of Maryland, an M.A. from Andover Newton Theological School and a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt University.

She is the well respected author of: Artistry and Faith in the Book of Judith; Harper's Bible Pronunciation Guide; The Book of Psalms; and essays and articles that have appeared in publications such as: The Bible Today, The Women's Bible Commentary; and many more.

The psalms present a rich cross section of poetic speech to and about God, and some include speech from God. At their heart is the conviction that God is one to whom all can speak. This is a one time opportunity not to be missed!
